The Hochelaga campfire girls gave a very pleasing entertainment in the social room of the Congregational church Saturday evening and one that showed much benefit to the girls. In the form of a playlet the Hochelaga girls were camping out when boy scouts, supposedly injured in an automobile accident, were brought to them. Exhibition of bandaging for head wounds, broken arm, leg, ribs, collar bone and injured hand was given. The making of a surgical bed was also illustrated. The campfire song, "Sheltering Flame," was rendered by a quartet composed of Misses Barbara Luce, Marguerite Snow, Christine Kane and Mrs. W. L. Boicourt. In ceremonial dress, the campfire also sang to "Juanita" the words written by their guardian, Mrs. W. L. Wasson, for the Hochelaga girls. "The Hochelaga Campfire Song." The girls were coached by Mrs. W. L. Boicourt, who also served as accompanist. The campfire presented Miss Josephine Case, superintendent of nurses at the Vermont state hospital, who had drilled them in their first aid work, a large bouquet of sweet peas, and Miss May Smith, a patient at the hospital, who had aided them in their practice work, was the recipient of a decorated basket of fruit and flowers. Fancywork and home-made candies were sold, a goodly sum being received. Congratulations are due the guardian, Mrs. Wasson, for the successful entertainment, which was in every way helpful to the girls.

A Fearless Physician.
Such a physician recently remarked:—"The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ever disposes of women is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it contains the very elements needed to tone up the female system and strengthen the depleted organism." Of course that is so, otherwise, it could not succeed as it has.—Adv.
